The chairman of the Kota Samarahan Municipal Council informed to him by a Salvation Army delegation led by Raymond Aloba on Friday during a courtesy call.

Minos said the headquarters will be sited in Jernang Expressway.

"The Salvation Army in Samarahan will look after very unfortunate lot who are not cared, looked at

"Over time with help and funds from the public, they will do more, freely and voluntarily, in looking after and helping more uncared and unloved children," he said.

Minos said MPKS will definitely help them in whatever way it can as caring and helping the poor and unfortunately is always in the council's mind as part of its social corporate responsibility.

He cited the Covid-19 pandemic as examples where MPKS, in cooperation with local supermarkets, distributed thousands of food baskets to the needy.

"Some people and voluntary groups – the Salvation Army being one – must come forward and stand ready to lend real support and help for the very poor children, those abandoned and those who society have left behind.

"All this makes the world a good caring and loving place to live and survive in. The Salvation Army is one such caring and society-loving body," he said.

Previously, Premier Datuk Patinggi Tan Sri Abang Johari Tun Openg officiated at the Salvation Army's building on Nov 23, 2021.
